RE : Built and Cultural Heritage, Draft Kildare Development Plan

Gowran Grange house, near Punchestown, is currently listed on the National Inventory of Architectural Heritage. The house and its curtilage are of significant Architectural, Historical and Cultural Interest dating back to the mid 19th century. I believe that Gowran Grange House and estate should be protected.

I would like to request that Gowran Grange House and its curtilage be included in the Record of Protected Structures.
